

Who's that baby?

We all know how cute you and your friends are now, but who blossomed into the beauty we see today and who was always just as adorable? In this super-fun game your guests must guess which baby photo belongs to whom in the group.

How to play:

- 1 Before the day of your baby shower, ask each of your guests to send you a photo of themselves as a baby. The more embarrassing the better, of course.
- 2 There are two ways you can play this one. The first method is to print one photo per page, then number each one before sticking them on the wall. Your guests then note down the person they think corresponds to each number. Alternatively you can make a collage of all the photos on one page, and hand one each to your guests who must note the correct name under each photo.
- 3 The guest who guesses the most names correctly wins!